DETAILED ACTION

- 1) Acknowledgement is made of Amendment received 5/21/2003. Applicants cancel claims 1-35, and introduce new claims 36-69, for consideration.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

- 2) Claims 36-65, 67-69, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Anderson (5,651,862).

Claims 36, 47, 53, 58, 61, 69: Anderson discloses a process wherein a cellulosic fibrous material and a superabsorbent material are slurry combined to make a wet-formed composite product (col. 3, lines 17-50). The superabsorbent material disclosed is capable of absorbing up to 100 times or more of its weight in water (col. 3, lines 50-55). The wet-formed composite is of a basis weight from about 20 grams per square meter (col. 5, lines 34-50). The superabsorbent material is swellable up to ten times its weight (col. 4, lines 24-46). The composite is dried in drier 64 (col. 10, lines 1-9 and Figure 9). The superabsorbent material comprises less than ten weight percent of the product (col. 5, lines 13-23). The superabsorbent material comprises 5 weight percent of the product (col. 5, lines 13-23). This also reads on the upper limit of "about 3% by weight" of the present invention range. The composite may be a tissue product (col. 6, lines 34-40).

Claims 37, 54: the superabsorbent material is provided in a dry state (col. 8, lines 28-32).

Claims 38-40, 42, 55-56, 65: the superabsorbent material is swellable up to ten times its weight (col. 4, lines 24-46). The superabsorbent material comprises 0.005 to about 3.0 weight percent of the solution (col. 5, lines 1-10).

Claims 41, 64: the superabsorbent material comprises 5 weight percent of the product (col. 5, lines 13-23). This reads on the upper limit of "about 3% by weight" of the present invention range.

Claims 43, 57: a wet strength agent is added to the process (col. 5, lines 7-10).

Claim 44: the paper web is softened (col. 12, lines 13-20).

Claims 45-46, 62-63: the moisture content of the product is from 0 to about 25 weight percent (col. 10, lines 15-20).

Claim 48: superabsorbent material and cellulosic fibrous material are combined in the headbox (col. 8, line 13 to col. 10, line 9, and Figures 7-9).

Claims 49-51, 59, 68: the superabsorbent material includes guar gum, pectin agar (col. 3, lines 55-60), and may be in the form of particles, fibers, spheres (col. 4, lines 9-13).

Claims 52, 60, 67: the paper web formed is dried using a through-air-dryer (col. 10, lines 10-16).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

- 3) Claim 66 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Anderson in view of Nielsen (6,416,624). Anderson is applied as above for claim 61, Anderson fails to disclose that the absorbed tissue product contains multiple plies. Nielsen discloses an absorbent multiple plies tissue (col. 7, lines 25-32). It would have been obvious, to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made, to combine the teachings of Anderson and Nielsen, because such a combination would produce a multiple plies product of lower water content, thus reduce the cost of drying of the web of design of Anderson, as disclosed by Nielsen (Abstract).

Response to Amendment

- 4) Claims 1-35, rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Anderson, is withdrawn in view of cancelled claims.

Conclusion

- 5) Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
